April 2016 Monthly Update

The Ultimate Training Tool For The Visual Learner

INTRODUCING...Nutri-Serve Training Videos on Kitchen Safety & Food Preparation

In any other industry, specific knowledge and certain skills are necessary for employees to safely and effectively perform their jobs daily.

Research from the Social Science Research Network, found that learning styles can be defined in three main groups: verbal learners, experimental learners and visual learners:

- ◆ Verbal (Auditory) Learners (30% of the population)- This group learns by hearing and benefit from class lectures, discussion, and oral presentations.
- ◆ Experimental (Tactile, Kinesthetic) Learners (5% of the population)- This group learns by doing, touching and role-playing exercises.
- ◆ Visual Learners (65% of the population)- This group needs to see what they are learning. They need to be looking at the information to reinforce what is being taught and respond well to diagrams, handouts and videos.

In an industry with shorter hours and little down time, our goal is to develop simple and quick training resources that will truly be retained by our food service staff. Nutri-Serve training videos teach valuable skills that would be difficult to conceptualize in reading a recipe or safety instructions. Skills emphasized in these videos include:

- ◆ Mass Production Tips and Techniques
- ◆ Food Safety Considerations
- ◆ Food Presentation Details

These informative and entertaining videos created by Nutri-Serve's own Little Egg Harbor Food Service Director, Mike Simoncini, are made available to Food Service Directors through our internal company website or shared through google drive. These videos can be viewed by the food service staff on a computer.

April Fun Days (Highlighted on Menu)

April 6: National Fresh Tomato Day!

On April 6th, we served a fresh tomato and cucumber salad tossed in Italian Dressing.

April 12: National Grilled Cheese Day!

On April 12th, we celebrated National Grilled Cheese Day. Originating in the 1920s, grilled cheese became a staple in American households during the Great Depression as an inexpensive, yet nutritious option for families on a tight budget.

April 19: National Garlic Day!

Garlic may be a strong flavor but many of customers enjoy garlic toast with their Italian entrées! We served spaghetti and meatballs with garlic toast on National Garlic Day! The health benefits of garlic seem endless: remedy for colds, lowering blood pressure & cholesterol and more!

April 21: Earth Day!

Those who purchased the school lunch received a Jell-O globe with their lunch. It's a combination of blue & green jellos resembling a globe.

This institution is an equal opportunity provider and employer.

April 2016 Happenings!

The kitchen was decorated for the Spring Season and the Phillies home opener. Baseball decorations, pastel colored table cloths, bunnies, and flowers were displayed.

INTRODUCING... Tomato & Cucumber Salad

We offered this vegetable side on "fresh Tomato Day". The students often prefer our fresh vegetable options over the cooked choices.

Check out what's cooking in Your School District!

Jell-O Globe!

The students really enjoyed the Blue Raspberry and Lime Jell-O. The colors represent the water
